

Lost in Control - What's Going On

What is going on
Are the clocks turned back
Are we losing track
We have lost control
But that won't hold me back

I won't let my futures drift away,
Won't let my goals fall in decay,
Cause I see what can be,
Want to love what I'd be,
It's my future and my future's built today.

And I won't let my angsty fears so strong
Cause my every choices go down wrong
No the past is amis,
Change is in this,
Tomorrow starts today.

I haven't got the time to rest,
With so much life, new paths to set.
I'm breaking through,
Redesigning you,
In every step I take.

Leaving shadows of your cast behind,
Walking forward with the future in mind.
I know there's more and more, want more than this
Tomorrow's here to stay.
Tomorrow's here to stay.

Been clearing paths that been holding me back,
Choosing the paths of light with every step.
I won't let my angsty fears put me to rest
I'm going for it all the way.

Kicking open doors to all my dreams,
Designing futures I have never seen.
I draw everything,
All that's promising,
Hope pulls forth today.

Leaving the darkness of your kind behind,
Walking forward with the future in mind.
I know there's more and I want more than this
Tomorrow's here to stay.

Oh future my future you are mine
I haven't got the time to rest,
I think what we need,
Is all of us futuring our way.

As evolving is a treat, it makes us all complete,
The future becomes today,

Our future's here to stay.
Our future's here to stay today.
O future will you be proud of us of what we did today?
